"Days of Our Lives"

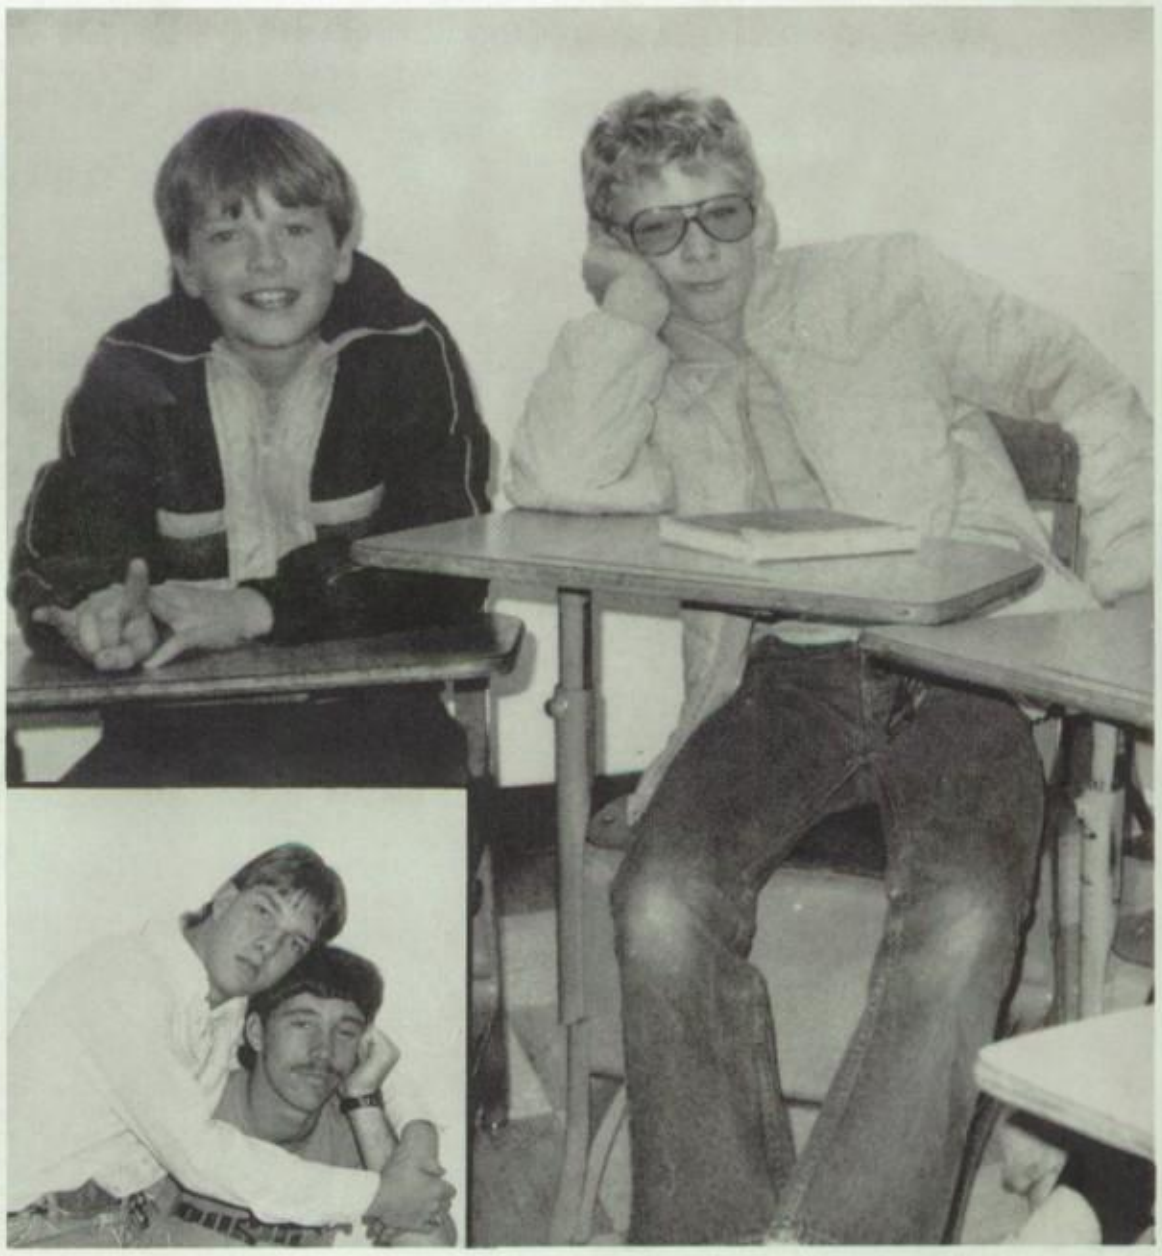
School Days at Gage in 1986

As the days flew by at GHS in 1986 there were a lot of busy times — times of working on science fair, times of cramming for tests, and times of practicing for sports.

Hope is talking to her mice again. I hope they're not talking back.

No, Kelly, not the accelerator, the brakes!

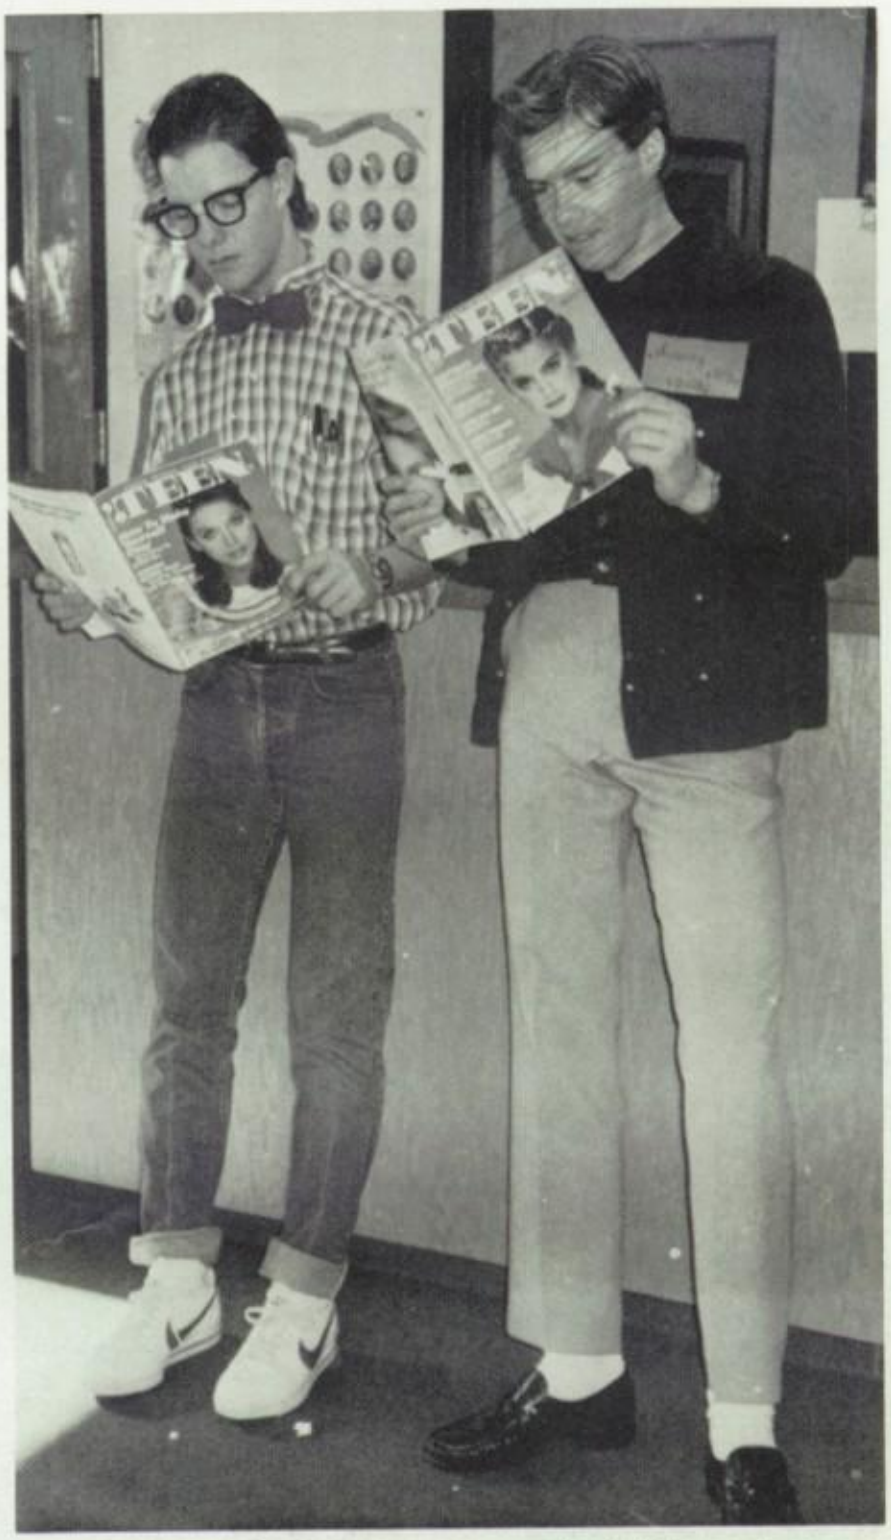
Chad is trying to get Sheuven to see things his way.



Don't Jason and Darrin look a lot like their brothers?

There were secrets to be told, "Nerds" to be seen, and, as always, honors to be won. On these pages scenes depicting school life tell the story of students' activities.

For once Steve is doing his work!



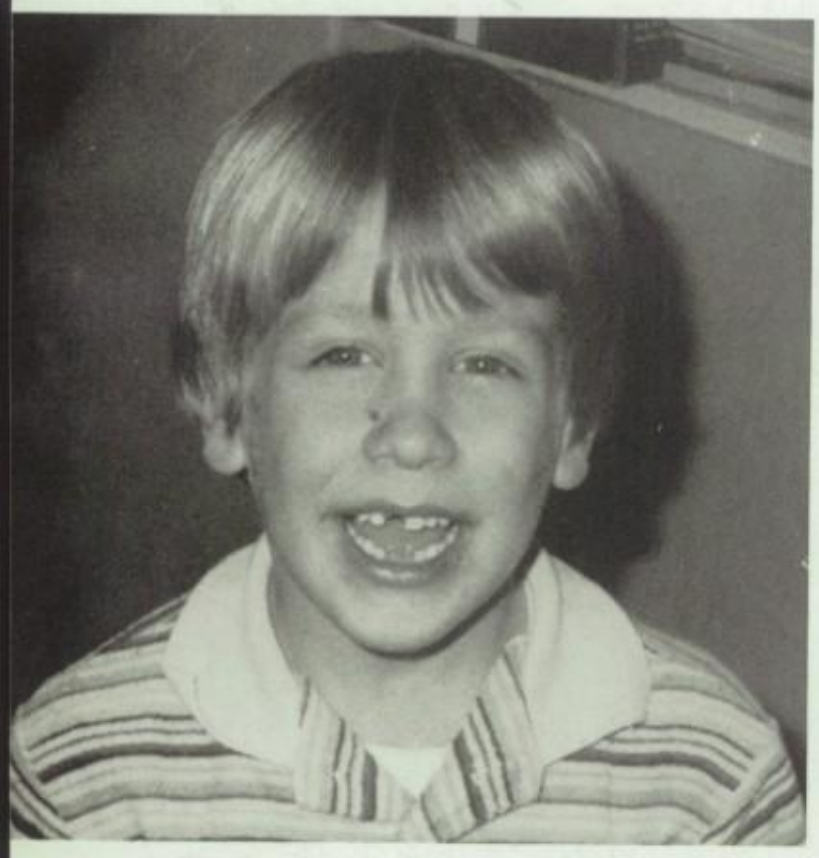
"Nerds" Jeff and Steve are always in the library, but not to study.

Susan wishes she looked as good as you do, Wayne.

Karla, Hope, and Shantel demonstrate what happens when they do annual layouts for an hour.

"Days of Our Lives"

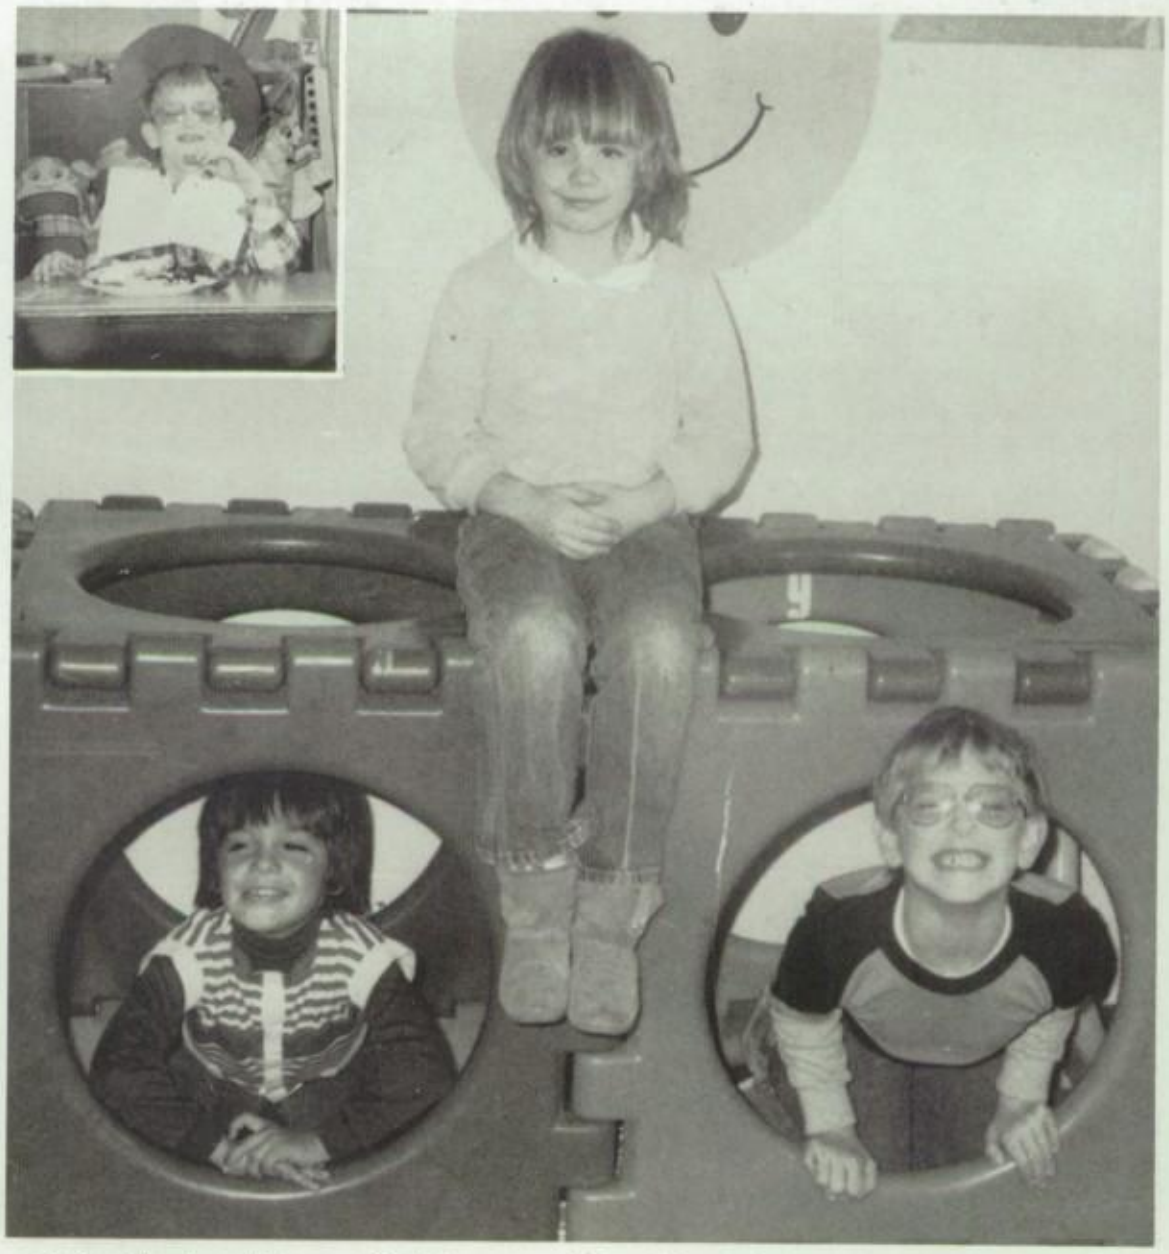
The "Days of Our Lives" revolved around a Christmas program, speech tournaments, and athletics.



All Joseph wanted for Christmas was his front tooth.

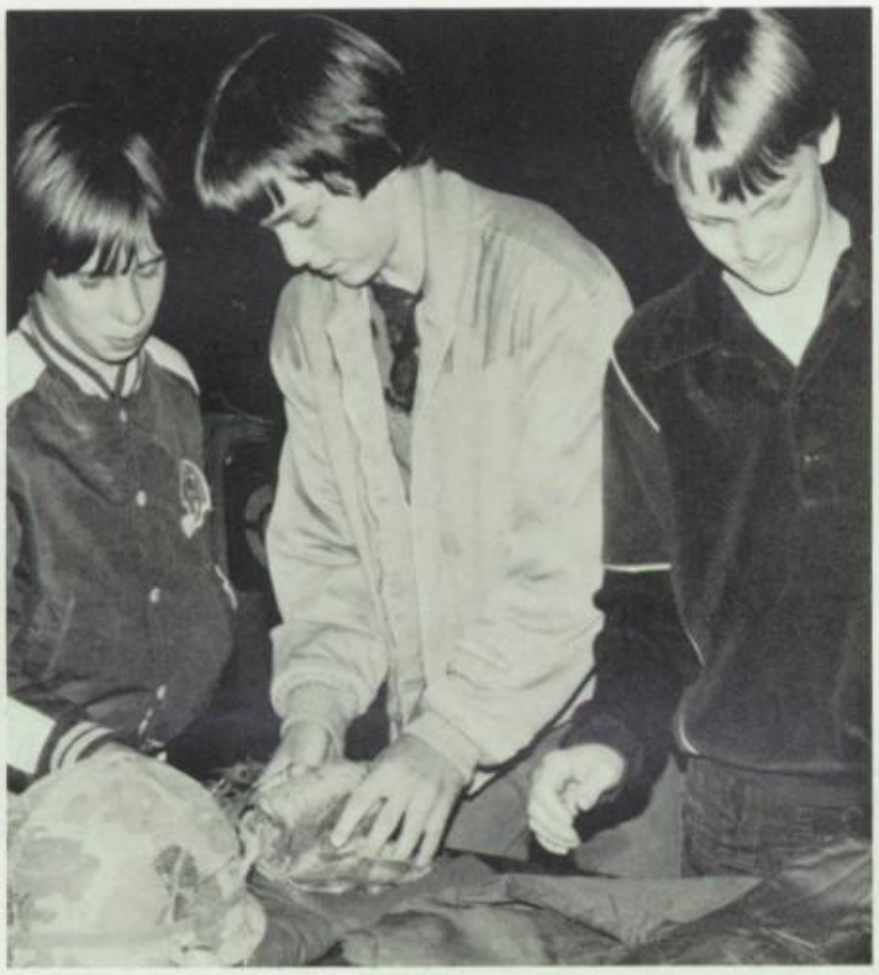
Doris and Lance demonstrate what happens when Mr. Pittman teaches them two hours.

Mrs. Latta and Rachel posed for pictures at the Homecoming ceremonies.

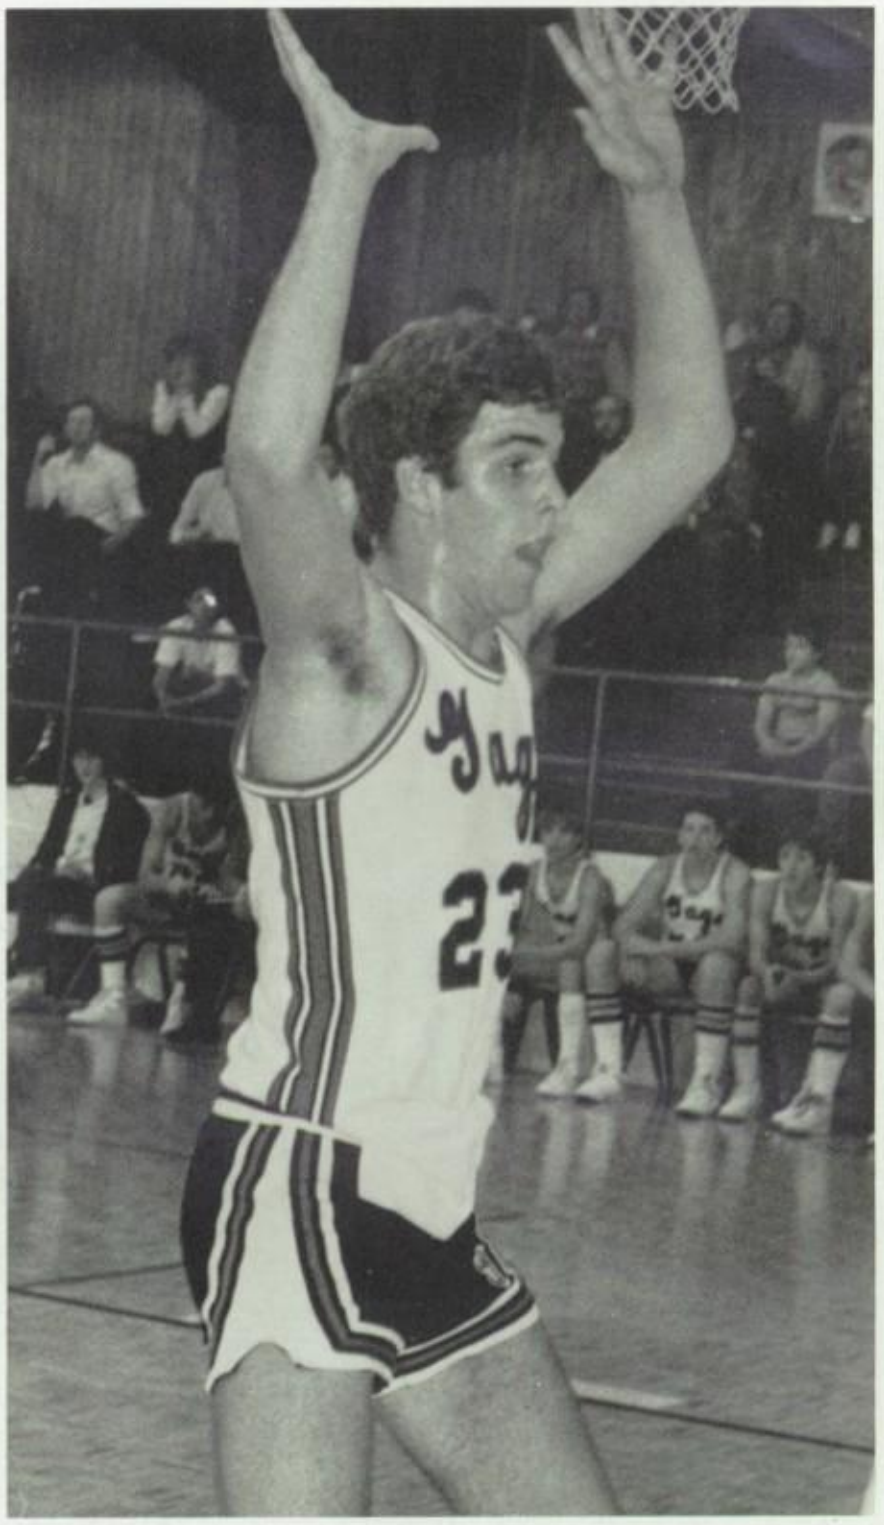


Mrs. Shafer will never find Brent and Douglas as long as Vanessa keeps looking innocent. (Inset) You ate the whole thing!!!

Juniors and Seniors can't forget all the fun in doing the dinners, prom, and concession stand duty.



Bryan and Danny find green isn't really their color.



Dusty is showing off his disco dancing ability.

Olie, alias Susan, finally caught himself Stephanie, the Rockette.

The Tigerettes are set for a victory.

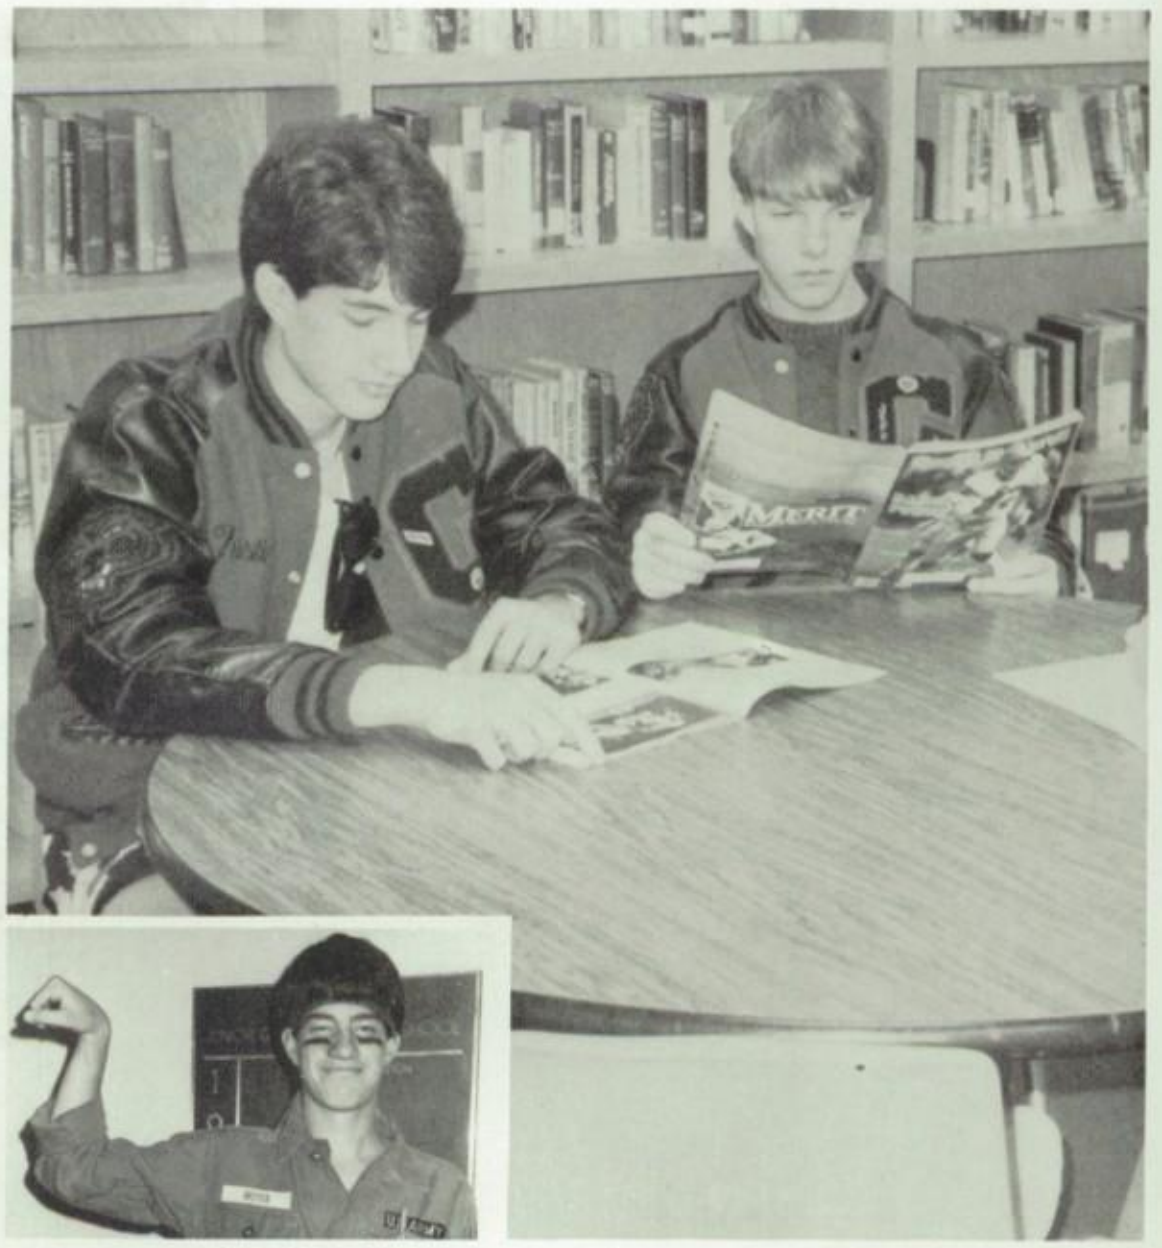
"Days of Our Lives"

The Gage Annual Staff hopes that the viewers of "Tiger Guide" remember all of their favorite actors and actresses at the Grammy Awards.

Don't poke your finger again, Doris.

Coach Stout gives last minute instructions to the girls.

Jennifer was selected the winner of the Nerd Day during Homecoming activities.



Justin and Jeff are definitely the studious type. (inset) Is that Rambo or Justin?

"Best Directors" Award

The Board of Education was never in the spotlight of school functions, but we felt their presence and their support in all our activities. Not too many actors audition for their roles, but we could not have a good school system without them. We appreciate these men who dedicate so much time to direct a superior show and thus we honor them with the "Best Directors" award.

Leo Long, a farmer and rancher in the community, just completed a term as president of the Board.

Curtis Torrance, a farmer and rancher, is the current president.

Vice-president Ron Cole is employed by Texas Oil and Gas.

Forest Woods, a dairy farmer, holds the office of clerk.

The school personnel honored Ned Moyer for ten years of service on the Board of Education.

John Cully, a newly elected member, is a pharmacist at Newman Hospital in Shattuck.

Superintendent of Gage Schools
Edwin G. Crouse

"Inside GHS"

Mr. Crouse was new in the position of superintendent of Gage Public Schools this year. With many changes in education and with reduction of state funding, he worked with the Board of Education to meet the challenge of using our funds to maintain our physical plant and a sound educational system.

Mr. Froage and Mr. Pittman each taught classes in addition to their duties as principals. Both are graduates of Gage High School and have returned to their alma mater in administrative positions. They worked with the students, staff, and community toward an excellent educational program.

In Memory of Yvonne E. Hassler

who died as a result of cancer December 16, 1985

Yvonne E. Hassler began her education in Gage Public Schools in 1945 and received all her elementary and high school education here, graduating in 1957 as valedictorian of her class. She pursued a major in elementary education at the present Northwestern Oklahoma State University and was graduated in 1961. For the next 25 years Yvonne dedicated herself to teaching. Her experiences took her to further education in Old Mexico and to teaching first in Colorado, then in Belgium, Italy, Germany and Turkey (USDESEA Schools), back to Ohio, and for the last 15 years here in her alma mater — most of that time in first grade. She was dedicated to her profession, her family, her community and her God. Her ideals and ideas will live on through the lives she touched.

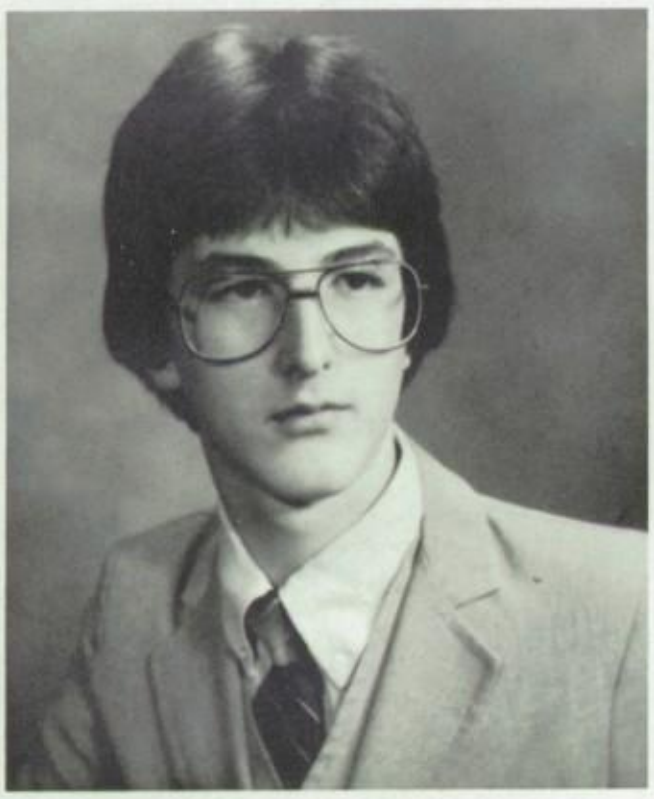
The seniors had a busy year with class projects to raise money for their senior trip and the usual participation in sports, 4-H, student council, and other school activities. Under the guidance of their sponsors, Mr. Froage and Mr. Stout, they came through the year in great style.

Valedictorian
Susan Nine

Susan Nine was the valedictorian for the 1986 graduating class with a 3.67 gpa. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Nine, Susan is a versatile person and has won honors in many areas of school life. This year she was both Miss Gage and Homecoming Queen. In 4-H she was a member of the Key Club, outstanding county senior member, and an inductee into Ellis County 4-H Hall of Fame. This year she was selected District DAR Good Citizen. Last year she was overall winner at local and regional science fairs and an international science fair finalist. In the area of sports, she was a 270-Conference All-Star and a member of the Buffalo All-Tournament team. She won many superior ratings in speech contests and first-place medals in track. Susan, a member of the Oklahoma Honor Society, will attend Oklahoma State University.



Salutatorian
Daren O'Brien

Daren O'Brien was named salutatorian of the 1986 graduating class with a 3.2 grade point average. Daren served his class as freshman class president and held other offices throughout high school. He was on the Student Council two years, was manager of the boys' basketball team two years, and was a member of the speech team and a regional qualifier this year.

Daren, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie O'Brien, plans to attend Panhandle Oklahoma State University.

Senior Class History

Settle back and read this remarkable story that began thirteen long years ago in 1974. It all began at the Gage Public School in a small room at the back of the auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Stanford. Among the 12 bright-eyed kindergarteners, we see five familiar faces we all know and love today: Shane Ames, Jeff Froage, Donnie Crow, Fred Schroeder, and Susan Nine. Right from the start anyone could tell this wasn't going to be an everyday, ordinary, run-of-the-mill class. Everyone knew this class was going to be different after the unsuccessful attempt to burn the brick grade school building with chewing gum foil and glass.

After passing kindergarten with an official graduation program, we were under the strict teaching of Mrs. Wintress Johnson. Another beloved member of the Senior Class today was added under the name of Jeff Wallis. As first graders, we also numbered 12. Who was to know that glorious gains lay in store for these rambunctious first graders?

In 1976 our total number rose to 13 with Daren O'Brien making his blessed appearance in our class which was taught by Mrs. Opal Treece who remains rather vague to us as we came to know our substitutes quite well.

On to third grade and how the years were flying by. Under the supervision of Mrs. Geneva Randolph we were taught patriotism with a flag salute every morning.

Mrs. Dana Chapman was the fortunate fourth grade teacher. During this year another member of the Senior Class was added, named Cindy Lee. We played the usual games children play — like tag, soccer, house and occasionally gagging and tying the unfortunate sex to trees during noon recess and leaving them there.

During our fifth and sixth grade years we were instructed by Mr. Bill Hepner, Mrs. Sue Hepner, Mrs. Jan Shafer and Mrs. Wanda Johnson. We had already begun to make our mark on the faculty and administration of the school; however, it was not good. We were the first class, in goodness knows how long, not to be allowed to take a trip to Oklahoma City during these years. We were told it was because times were hard and the money situation was bad. So we gladly offered to pay our own way but again were refused. We finally came to the conclusion there must be something more than money involved.

At last we made it to the seventh and eighth grades where we encountered many changes. Moving up the stairs to junior high was an exciting and trying experience. In the high school building we received little or no respect as seventh graders and became known as the terrors of Gage Junior High. During these two years substitute teachers were hard to come by; in fact, Mr. Froage was one of the few teachers who was willing to take the risk and teach us. That must have something to do with the fact that he is now our sponsor for the senior trip. Even though we were referred to as heathens, absolutely good for nothing, and a few other names that wouldn't be appropriate to mention at this time, we finally graduated out of grade school and into high school with a total number of 15.

As our freshman year started we all were dreading that terrifying day we were to be initiated into high school. Bound to make the best of it, we came to school that morning with a good attitude about freshman initiation. To our surprise and everyone else's we made that day into the best one we had all year. This was one of the few days we were complimented by the faculty.

Our sophomore and junior years were blessed with few problems. Sure we played our practical jokes, fought and laughed as any class would but somehow managed to stay out of major trouble. We made our way through several money making projects although we didn't make much money. Gerald Bland was added to the class but some had left and now we were only 11.

As our senior year rolled rapidly around we added the final member to the class, Lori Wickman, whom we gladly accepted, and because two had left, we were at the mighty number of ten. We also gained a new sponsor, Mr. Mickey Stout and his wife Kim. They, along with Mr. John Froage and his wife Carole, accompanied the seniors to the Fin and Feather Lodge at Lake Tenkiller and to Branson, Missouri, for an adventurous and fun-filled week.

We worked hard this year hauling hay, selling jewelry, and working concessions. We have vowed never to sell another item as long as we live. But all too soon our public schooling has come to an end, and now we must be departing to move on to new and better things. We will miss this school, our teachers, and our friends, and we hope that we will be missed by them as well.
